LETTER FROM THE SHERIFF

Looking back on another successful year, I am excited to continue building upon what the incredible men and women of this agency have worked so diligently to accomplish. Through numerous community related projects such as “Community Coats and Cops” and the “Marcus Whitfield Youth Camp” we are plugged into our community like never before. We strive to parallel ourselves to reflect the diversity in Greenville by joining with groups such as the Hispanic Alliance with the goal to continue to diversify our agency as the community continues to grow. 2015 proved the steps this agency has taken toward diversification has been a success as we have employed the highest number of females and minorities in our history.

Law Enforcement and Community relations have never been as critical as now and it is because of the wonderful men and women of the Greenville County Sheriff’s Office that we continue to have a positive working relationship with the community. Despite what has occurred in Baltimore and all across this country, the outpouring of community support for local Law Enforcement has been truly remarkable.

We will continue to unite and promote the everlasting integrity, bravery and professionalism that have become our set standard here at GCSO. As your Sheriff, I want you to know that you have my utmost respect and support. I will continue to do whatever it takes to equip every deputy with the necessary resources and training to keep you safe and assist you in doing the job you so courageously swore to carry out.

Stay Safe!

Steve Loftis, Sheriff
NATIONALLY ACCREDITED
In 1988 the Greenville County Sheriff's Office became the first law enforcement agency in the state and 75th in the United States to be nationally accredited by the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies, Inc. (CALEA)
In 2010 the Greenville County Sheriff’s Office became designated as a “Flagship Agency”, and one of only 20 agencies internationally recognized for this highest honor.

ABOUT CALEA
The Law Enforcement Accreditation Program was the first credentialing program established by CALEA after its founding. It was originally developed to address what was seen as a need to enhance law enforcement as a profession and to improve law enforcement service delivery. That mission continues today through a tiered law enforcement accreditation program. Participating agencies may enroll in either CALEA Law Enforcement Accreditation or CALEA Advanced Law Enforcement Accreditation, without regard to agency size.

Since the first CALEA Accreditation Award was granted in 1984, the program has become the primary method for an agency to voluntarily demonstrate their commitment to excellence in law enforcement. The standards upon which the Law Enforcement Accreditation Program is based reflect the current thinking and experience of law enforcement practitioners and researchers. Major law enforcement associations, leading educational and training institutions, governmental agencies, as well as law enforcement executives internationally, acknowledge CALEA’s Standards for Law Enforcement Agencies© and its Accreditation Programs as benchmarks for professional law enforcement agencies.

CALEA Accreditation requires an agency to develop a comprehensive, well thought out, uniform set of written directives. This is one of the most successful methods for reaching administrative and operational goals, while also providing direction to personnel.

CALEA Accreditation standards provide the necessary reports and analyses a CEO needs to make fact-based, informed management decisions.
CALEA Accreditation requires a preparedness program be put in place—so an agency is ready to address natural or man-made unusual occurrences.

CALEA Accreditation is a means for developing or improving upon an agency’s relationship with the community.

CALEA Accreditation strengthens an agency’s accountability, both within the agency and the community, through a continuum of standards that clearly define authority, performance, and responsibilities.

Being CALEA Accredited can limit an agency’s liability and risk exposure because it demonstrates that internationally recognized standards for law enforcement have been met, as verified by a team of independent outside CALEA-trained assessors.

CALEA Accreditation facilitates an agency’s pursuit of professional excellence.

Our local chapter was modeled after the original Crime Stoppers program in 1976 in Albuquerque, New Mexico. By following their lead, Greenville's Crime Stoppers chapter has become successful and rewarding by winning the Productivity Award for most cases solved for the ninth year in a row.
